Dear Dr. Tsang,

A baccalaureate degree in Interaction Design at Santa Monica College is an exciting prospect for our community. As a middle school principal, I am tirelessly looking to expand student learning opportunities in technology while bringing real world relevance. A baccalaureate degree would provide a much needed model for educational and career experiences in this critical career sector. I support your proposal with strong enthusiasm and look forward to partnering with you in the future in this endeavor.

Sincerely,

Steven Richardson
Principal
